1. Reflections

A. Cynthia, my beautiful bride, and I got to see SART's first show of the 2021 season: THE LAST FIVE YEARS. ... You'll love this tuneful musical. Chelsey Lee Gaddy and Richie Barrella are both terrific in the starring roles, and J. Ethan Henry's direction is spot on. ... It runs through July 4. For tickets, please click: Here.

B. Afterward, we paid our first visit to the S&W Food Market. It won't be our last. ... Many fine eateries are there, including where we ate that evening: Buxton Chicken Palace and Bun Intended ... And you'll never go wrong by topping off your meal with dessert from The Hop Ice Cream.

C. As can be seen, the Hartzog family outside itself with food at its second Summer Solstice AND Hugs-are-Back Potluck.

D. The Montford Park Players have another smash with the world premiere of GRIMM'S FAIRY TALES, written by Barbie Angell, Kathryn Langwell and Honor Moor, directed by Victoria Lamberth and assistant directed (and stage managed) by Sara Hassinger. ... This is a show for kids, as well as their parents and grandparents. ... It runs on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights at 7:30 p.m. through July 24 at the Hazel Robinson Amphitheatre. .. You'll laugh throughout, especially as you view Joan Rinchisen's take on a wealthy guy who bears a remarkable resemblance to a recent president; Hogan McLamb's inspired tap dancing; comic antics from Jered Shults and John Adams; Paula O'Brien's tuneful singing; and the enthusiastic narration from Blaine Weiss, Gordon Pendarvis and Aaron Ybarra. And lest I forget anybody else, kudos to all the other members of the talented cast who helped make the evening the success that it was: Sage Albert, Madison Brightwell, Celia Butterworth, Ana-Alicia Carroll, Lydia Congdon, Gaia Eggert, Matilyn Hull, Ariel Killillay, Bradely Langan, Eleanor Leaven, Tod Leaven, Liz Mason, Melissa Mason, Donald McManus, Frank Salvo, Daniel Sandoval, Lily Stejskal, Aidoneus Watson and Lucas York.

E. And, as always, it was a treat to be greeted at the above by David Broshar at the concession stand that he so ably runs.

F. During the week, I participated in an excellent session of the Home Business Success Community. Members exchanged ideas on how to best hone your message.

Here's more information about this group:

How to Shop Online and Not Get Ripped Off

by Nicole Nguyen

Shopping online can feel like magic. A couple of clicks and a few days later, a box is on your doorstep. But it can also feel like playing a game of digital dodgeball. Shoppers must tread carefully to avoid the fake reviews, unsafe or mislabeled products, or counterfeit goods hiding behind legitimate-seeming listings.

That's because we are living in the Marketplace Era. Third-party sellers peddle their wares via the digital bazaars of Amazon, Walmart, Target—and now even Urban Outfitters and J.Crew. The deal could be seen as a win-win: Customers get a larger selection of products and retailers get a cut of more sales. The problem? It adds a layer of mystery for shoppers. Instead of buying from that site you know, you're buying from a seller you don't know, and often it's a product whose brand you've never heard of.

Something for me to try, too! (Thanks, Gil Calderwood, for sharing.)

4. Reviews

A. Saw WONDER WOMAN 1984, an OK sequel to the 2017 film. Gal Gadot again is terrific in the leading role. I also liked Kirsten Wiig's addition to the cast, as well as the 1980s setting and costume. There's a terrific beginning, but things fell apart for me with the ending. That said, make sure you watch through the credits for a guest appearance that will put a smile on your face. Rated PG-13.

B. Enjoyed LIMELIGHT, a touching film about a dancer who attempts suicide--only to be rescued by a once-famous stage clown. Charlie Chaplin and Claire Bloom are both outstanding in this film. The only thing I didn't like was the fact that a few parts of it dragged. Rated G, though methinks that young children wouldn't like it very much.

Note: The instrumental theme for the film was composed by Chaplin. It's one of the most beautiful you'll ever hear. In 1973, over 20 years after the film's first release, Chaplin and his musical collaborators Raymond Rasch and Larry Russell were awarded an Oscar for Best Original Dramatic Score. 7. Clips/Websites

A. The Turtles are arguably the greatest rock group of all time!

(1) As mentioned previously, this section will feature music by The Turtles--either their recordings and/or covers of their music by others.

I'd especially love to see any recording you may have done of "Happy Together."

Send it to: bjinbc@aol.com and put THE TURTLES in the subject line.

Note: Even if you did not do a recording, I welcome anything done by others--not only of "Happy Together," but any other Turtles' song.

IMDBb tells you who starred in various films. In addition, it lists every fact it can about the cast and crew of every TV show and movie ever made. It also offers up trailers and news. ... To view all this and more, click: Here.

What I especially like about this website is the fact that you can find memorable quotes from your favorite films; e.g., this one from AS GOOD AS IT GETS:

Melvin Udall: Hey, I've got a great compliment for you.

Carol Connelly: You know what? I...

Melvin Udall: Just let me... let me talk. I might be the only person on the face of the earth that knows you're the greatest woman on earth. I might be the only one who appreciates how amazing you are in every single thing that you do, and how you are with Spencer, "Spence," and in every single thought that you have, and how you say what you mean, and how you almost always mean something that's all about being straight and good. I think most people miss that about you, and I watch them, wondering how they can watch you bring their food and clear their tables and never get that they just met the greatest woman alive. And the fact that I get it makes me feel good... about me.

[beat]

Melvin Udall: Is that something that's bad for you to be around... for you?

Carol Connelly: [moved] No.

8. Technology tip

WhatsApp hijack scam continues to spread

Scammers are continuing to target WhatsApp users and hijack their accounts, by posing as a friend and asking for SMS security codes.

The scam has existed for years but has continued to catch people out, with victims sharing their stories on social media.

WhatsApp says users should never hand over their security codes to anybody, even if they appear to be a friend.

To read the rest of this eye-opening article, please click: Here.

Note: By the same token, I'd recommend not becoming friends with anybody on social media who you do not know. Often, out of nowhere, you might get approached by somebody who appears friendly. You'll then be asked to open a WhatsApp account. That is the sign that nothing good is about to happen.

9. Joke 3

My wife asked me to whisper dirty things in her ear. So I leaned in and told her, "Kitchen, living room, bathroom." (Thanks, Beth Appel, for sharing.)

10. A quote I like

"If they don't give you a seat at the table, bring a folding chair."--Shirley Chisolm (1924-2005), American politician, educator and author who became the first Black woman elected to the United State Congress and, also, the first Black candidate to run for a major party's nomination for President of the United States

11. Thought for the day

"If something is true, no amount of wishful thinking will change it."--Richard Dawkins (born 1941), British ethologist, evolutionary biologist and author
