***** CONTEST #19 *****

Two lucky readers will win a copy of my first collection of best jokes. (See below.) It had previously been available online, but I now have had it printed so as to be available in both book and Kindle format.

To enter, send an email to: bginbc@aol.com and put CONTEST #19 in the subject line. In the body of your email, include both your name and mailing address. All entries must be received on or before Monday, Oct. 5, at 9 p.m.

What follows is the most popular joke from the book. It received 256,034 "likes" when it was on Facebook" and was shared 233,811 times.

A little old lady went to buy cat food. She picked up three cans, but was told by the clerk, "I'm sorry, but we can't sell this to you without proof you have a cat. Too many seniors are buying cat food to eat. Management wants proof that you are buying this for your cat." So the lady went home, brought in her cat and was sold the cat food. ... The next day, she tried to buy two cans of dog food and was again told she couldn't buy them without proof. So the lady went home, brought in her dog and was sold the dog food. One day later, she brought in a box with a hole in the lid and asked the cashier to stick her finger in the hole. The cashier said, "No, you might have a snake in there." The lady assured her that there was nothing in the box that would harm her. So the cashier put her finger into the box, quickly pulled it out and exclaimed, "That smells like crap." The lady replied, "It is. I want to buy two rolls of toilet paper."

***** BLAINESWORLD BEST AWARD *****

This week, it goes to Phillip Price, owner of Phillip C. Price, Attorney at Law. We have used him on three separate occasions to help with mortgages since we have moved to Asheville and each time, we have been extremely pleased with his professionalism. He is both friendly and knowledgeable, and we recommend him highly. We have also been impressed by the help we have received from his office staff. For more information, please click: Here.

2. FYI

I recently attended a very informative Zoom webinar that featured, Michelle Sera (see picture below), copywriter extraordinaire, on the following topic: "Building an Email Campaign for Your Home Business." This one idea really caught my attention: If you send out email on a regular basis, it's a good idea to try sending that same email to non-responders. You should keep the body of the email the same, but just change the subject line. Do so either later the same day you sent it out or shortly thereafter.

For more information about Michelle: LinkedIn: Here; Facebook: Here; or Email: Michelle@MichelleSera.com.

The above webinar was offered by the Home Business Success Community, a new organization that I have joined. If you have or are planning to start a home business, I strongly recommend that you check it out.

Here's more information about it:

Do you run a home business or work from home? Now there's a supportive online membership community where you can find much of what you need to be successful.

It's a place where you can learn from like-minded home business entrepreneurs, share tips and tricks, test ideas, and share triumphs and tribulations. It's called The Home Business Success Community. Contact Hank Eder, hank@hankeder.com for more information or to find out how to join.

4. Reviews

A. Saw SAVAGES on HBO. a crime drama directed by Oliver Stone. It is about two California entrepreneurs who run a lucrative business raising marijuana. All is well until a merciless leader of Mexican Baja Cartel, moves in and demands a piece of the action. Salma Hayek and Benicio Del Teoro are both terrific in their roles, and it was good to see John Travolta back on screen in a film where I could enjoy his performance. Rated R, this is quite violent, but also very watchable.

B. Saw DODGEBALL: A TRUE UNDERDOG STORY, a very funny comedy about a group of misfits who form a dodgeball team in an attempt to save a failing gym. I especially liked the occasional sweetness of the film, as well as the work of stars Vince Vaughn, Christine Taylor and Ben Stiller. Rated PG-13.

C. Walt Weeks: ON THE BASIS OF SEX ... what a terrific movie on RBG. Well done and brought tears of joy multiply times. Most go on your favorite list.

8. Technology tip

To protect your phone, it is important to keep its operating system and apps up to date with the latest versions. You also need to make sure to install any security patches and complete other vulnerability fixes, as these often focus on issues that affect your phone.

To get the latest IOS app updates: Go to Settings > General, then tap Software Update. Tap Download and Install. If a message asks to temporarily remove apps because the software needs more space for the update, tap Continue or Cancel. Later, iOS or iPad OS will reinstall apps that it removed.

To get the latest Android updates: Open your phone's Settings app. Near the bottom, tap System Advanced System update. You'll see your update status. Follow any steps on the screen.

11. Thought for the day

Ray, The Adopted Lab

When he found out who the dog's previous owner was, he could not return the dog to the shelter

To view this touching story, please click: Here.

Note: I had to check this one out further. Doing so, I found out, I found out the dog had a different name in another version of the story: Ricky. ... To quote Snopes, "That the story may not be literal truth doesn't prevent it from being figurative truth. Those who serve overseas do so at the cost of great personal sacrifice. A tale such as this—literal truth or not—serves to remind us all of how much they give and how much we owe them." I agree! ... To read more, please click: Here.
