A. Cynthia, my beautiful bride, and I:

(1) Celebrated her birthday over several delightful days. ... We began by meeting her brother Allen Rubin (who can be seen on the far left when you click the link below) for a tasty lunch at Twisted Crepe. We then got her birthday gift, an exquisite opalite pendant that can be seen around her neck, from the Crystal Roots Creations booth on Wall Street. ... On Saturday, we had a blast at her friend Judy Ray's 80 Years of Wisdom party. ... And yesterday, her actual birthday, we went for an enjoyable first visit to the new HomeGrown in West Asheville. ... Lastly, I had to share this picture of Cynthia in the gorgeous top that her sister Joyce Litchman gave her.

E. During the week, I:

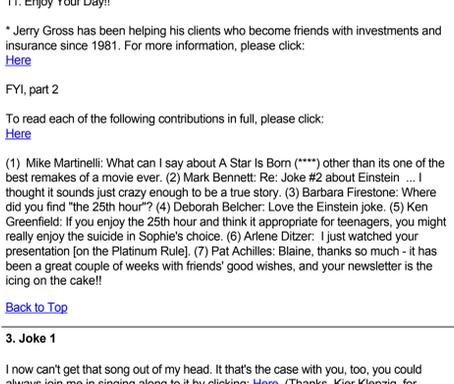

(1) Get to see THE COMPLETE WORKS OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE (ABRIDGED) [REVISED] at Parkway Playhouse. What a great way to see all 37 of his plays in just 97 minutes. I laughed a lot, thanks to hilarious performances from Strother Singley, Dwight Chiles and Graham Livengood and taut direction from Taotha Judy.

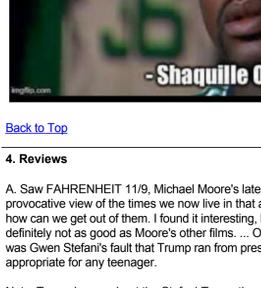

(2) Met my friend Eric Weinberger for some tasty bagel sandwiches at Bruegger's Bagels. It was a bitersweet get together, though, in that Eric and his wife Frankie will soon be moving to Wisconsin. Life in Asheville just won't the same!

(2) Got to walk around Biltmore Lake with my friend Chris Filiipiak and his daughter Cora Josephine. It was a beautiful day and as can be seen, my neighbors and their dogs always stop to give a friendly greeting.

(3) Solved the world's problems with my friend Duane Adams, Associate Director at the ABT-ech's Small Business Center, over lunch at Sand Hill Kitchen--one of my favorite eateries in the area.

E. Condolences to Barbara Karpinski and family on the passing of Marianne, Barbara's sister.

F. Congratulations to:

- (1) Leslie Lang and family on the birth of River, her grandson.
- (2) Luke Haynes on his new job in Arlington, VA. He will be missed, big time, from the Asheville theatre scene!

 CONTEST #21 *****

One lucky reader will get a copy of FRENCH WOMEN DON'T GET FAT: THE SECRET OF EATING FOR PLEASURE by Mireille Guiliano. ... From the inside flap: French women don't get fat, but they do eat bread and pastry, drink wine, and regularly enjoy three-course meals. In her delightful tale, Mireille Guiliano unlocks the simple secrets of this "French paradox"--how to enjoy food and stay slim and healthy. Hers is a charming, sensible, and powerfully life-affirming view of health and eating for our times. ... 76% of all readers gave it a 4- or 5-star rating on Amazon. ... And this edition has new recipes.

To enter the contest, send an email to: bjainbc@aol.com and put CONTEST #21 in the subject line, then include your name and snail mail address in the body of the email. ... All entries must be received by 9 p.m. on Mon., October 8, 2018.

 BLAINESWORLD BEST AWARD *****

Thanks, Charlie Ianni, for sharing this beautiful story about an elderly man who got kicked out of a bank--and how this one cop helped him.

For his efforts, Officer Robert Josett deserves this week's award.

Elderly Man Kicked Out Of Bank, Cops Help by Sheena Vasani

A police officer in California warmed hearts after he helped an elderly man who had been kicked out of a bank.

It all began after Officer Robert Josett received a call from a local Bank of America about a 92-year-old man causing a scene, reports Shareably.

(1) Mike Martinelli: What can I say about A Star Is Born (*) other than its one of the best remakes of a movie ever. (2) Mark Bennett: Re: Joke #2 about Einstein ... I thought it sounds just crazy enough to be a true story. (3) Barbara Firestone: When did you find "the 25th hour"? (4) Deborah Belcher: Love the Einstein joke. (5) Ken Greenfield: If you enjoy the 25th hour and think it appropriate for teenagers, you might really enjoy the suicide in Sophie's choice. (6) Arlene Ditzer: I just watched your presentation [on the Platinium Rule]. (7) Pat Achilles: Blaine, thanks so much - it has been a great couple of weeks with friends' good wishes, and your newsletter is the icing on the cake!!

4. Reviews

A. Saw FAHRENHEIT 11/9, Michael Moore's latest documentary. It is a comedic, provocative view of the times we now live in that attempts to get viewers to consider how can we get out of them. I found it interesting, but also thought it was choppy. And definitely not as good as Moore's other films. ... One part stood out: His theory that it was Gwen Stefani's fault that Trump ran from president ... Rated R, but I think appropriate for any teenager.

B. HEARD I DON'T KNOW WHAT YOU KNOW ME FROM: CONFESSIONS OF A CO-STAR (Random House Audio), written and read by Judy Greer ... I just had to listen to this book because I've long been a fan of Greer's work in such films as THE WEDDING PLANNER, 13 GOING ON 30, THE DESCENDANTS, etc. ... She has never had the leading role, but nevertheless, she always managed to catch my attention. ... This book did the same. It is a collection of essays about her life, beginning with her days as a child in Detroit through her entry into acting and including what it's like to be a stepparent. ... I felt like I was having a one-on-one conversation with Greer, and I both laughed and was moved by what she had to say. ... I even learned so much about her from such profound chapters as: "Celebrities I've Peed Next To" ... In it, she wrote: "I'd say I was most nervous peeing next to J. Lo. Heidi Klum didn't make me nervous, because I didn't realize it was her until we came out of our stalls at the same time. Debra Messing made me a little nervous, but mostly because the bathroom was really quiet and I was feeling a little gassy that day."

5. TV alert

A. PRIVATE LIFE: Now on Netflix
PRIVATE LIFE is the bracingly funny and moving story of Richard (Academy Award-nominee Paul Giamatti) and Rachel (Kathryn Hahn), a couple in the throes of infertility who try to maintain their marriage as they descend deeper and deeper into the insular world of assisted reproduction and domestic adoption. According to Michael O' Sullivan in the WASHINGTON POST, "Private Life" earns its laughs, to be sure. But more important, it earns the tears of recognition that fill, gently and warmly, between the yucks."

B. GIZMO!: Tuesday, Oct. 9, at 5 p.m. on TCM
ROTTEN TOMATOES has this to say about the film: "Gizmo! is an irresistible collection of newsreel footage chronicling the inventive spirit in America. We are treated to some of the strangest inventions ever concocted by man, as well as a few forgotten contraptions that seem to make a great deal of sense."

C. ADAM: Thursday, Oct. 11, at 1:05 p.m. on HBOE
Sweet film about a young man (Hugh Dancy) with Asperger syndrome and a new neighbor (Rose Byrne). I saw this and liked it a lot. Methinks you will, too.

D. THE GOOD PLACE: Thursdays at 8:30 p.m. on NBC
To quote TV GUIDE, "In its third year--and second reinvention--reformed demon Michael (a giddy Ted Danson) sends his four test subjects back to Earth from the afterlife. ... This is comic fantasy operating on the highest level." Kristen Bell also stars.

6. Joke 2

A father told his 3 sons when he sent them to college: "I feel it's my duty to provide you with the best possible education, and you don't owe me anything. However, as a token, please each put $1,000 into my coffin when I die." ... And so it happened. His sons became a doctor, a lawyer and a financial planner--each very successful. When their father's time had come, they remembered his wish. ... First, it was the doctor who put 10 newly printed crisp $100 bills onto the chest of the deceased. Then, came the financial planner who also put $1,000 there. ... Finally, it was the heartbroken lawyer's turn. He dipped into his pocket, took out his checkbook, wrote a check for $3,000, put it into his father's coffin and took the $2,000 cash. (Thanks, Janeen Ravkin, for sharing.)

8. Technology tip

Thanks, Joyce Berger, for being the first person to share this warning with me: Heads-up!! Almost every account is being cloned. Your picture and your name are used to create a new Facebook account (they don't need your password to do this thing). They want your friends to add them to their Facebook account. Your friends will think that it's you and accept your request. From that point on they can write what they want under your name. I have NO plans to open a new account. Please DO NOT accept a 2nd friend request from "me." Please forward to all your contacts.

Response: Alas, I have been getting a lot of the above message. So per your suggestion, I NEVER accept a second friend request. And at the same time, I also alert the person who I got it from.

In addition, if this happens to you, it might be a good time to change your password.

Update: A better way to handle such a message is to ignore it. The warnings (and similar ones) are a SCAM. For more information, please click: Here

9. Joke 3

An Amish farmer won $43 million in the lottery. So to celebrate, he took his wife and kids to see the NYC Labor Day parade. ... Clem, the farmer, went into a fancy hotel with his son Luke to register. While waiting, they were mesmerized by a shiny box with silver walls in the lobby. They'd never come across doors that could move apart and then automatically close again, in that neither had seen an elevator before. So they were totally amazed when a little old lady entered the shiny box and the doors closed. The lights on the wall by the doors flashed, then the doors opened and out stepped a beautiful young woman. ... Clem turned to Luke and said, "Son, go get your mother."
