***** BLAINESWORLD BEST AWARD *****

This week, it goes to Danny Brice for the third time.

Danny was one of the first individuals I met when I moved to Asheville. At the time, he worked for a company that installed both my computer and phone systems. I was impressed with his knowledge, as well as his helpfulness. We soon became friends. We have stayed in touch ever since, and he has assisted me on several projects. In fact, he was the guy I turned to when I needed to mount my new TV (see also Section 2). He came over right away and within an hour, I was up and running.

Had I needed to figure this out myself, methinks I would still be working on it.

Thanks, Danny, You rock!

2. FYI

Size DOES matter—at least when it comes to TVs. We recently purchased a 2016 Samsung UN65KS8000 65-inch UK Ultra HD Smart LED TV, and we're loving it. The picture quality is incredible. Even when watching an old movie (see also Section 4B) on TV recently, it appeared as if we were watching a live production of it.

Note: We priced the above at Best Buy, but then found out that we could get it for a few dollars less via Amazon Prime. But even better: Delivery was free.

3. Joke 1

A Buddhist monk approaches a hot dog stand and says, "Make me one with everything." ... The vendor has heard this one before, and without a word, he simply makes the hot dog and hands it to the Buddhist monk, who pays with a $20 bill. The vendor puts the bill in the cash box and closes it. ... "Excuse me, but where's my change?" asks the Buddhist monk. ... The vendor replies, "Change must come from within."

4. Reviews

A. Saw DENIAL, the true story about a woman's legal battle when she is accused of libel after accusing an author of being a Holocaust denier. Rachel Weisz is fine in the leading role, but Timothy Spall is outstanding as the denier. The trial scene at the end is particularly riveting. It will also remind you of what Americans are going through with the candidacy of Donald Trump. Rated PG-13.

B. Out on DVD and possibly via a streaming service is MURPHY'S ROMANCE, a delightful 1985 romantic comedy starring Sally Field as a newly divorced woman who moves into a small Arizona town and meets James Garner, the town's most eligible bachelor. They maintain a platonic relationship, largely because Field's ex-husband has moved back in with her. There's one very funny dance scene, and overall, you'll both enjoy the film and see why it earned Garner his one Oscar nomination. Rated PG-13.

Note: I've just added MURPHY'S ROMANCE to my list of all-time favorite films. If you'd like to get a copy of that list, send an email to: bjnlbc@aol.com and put FAVORITES in the subject line.

6. Joke 2

Some guys were sitting in a bar having a conversation. One of them says, "What do you want people to say about you at your funeral?" They think about it for a while and the first answers, "I want them to say I was a good guy, and that I would probably go to heaven." ... The second guy nods and says, "Yeah, I want them to say that I didn't deserve to die, and that I had a lot of friends." ... The third guy looks up and replies, "At my funeral, I want everyone to point and say 'Look! His moving!'"

***** MR. CURIOUS HERE *****

I used to use iGoogle and loved it, but for some reason, Google stopped offering it. I then switched to MyYahoo (described in the article above), but lately, it has become terrible. I get far too many "sponsored" pieces, which are just ads, and also, much of the stuff there is outdated.

Consequently, I'm seeking something else to use. Might you have any recommendation(s)? If so, please advise.

9. Joke 3

A father and father were visiting their grown children for an overnight stay. When the father found a bottle of Viagra in his son's medicine cabinet, he asked about using one of the pills. The son said, "I don't think you should take one. Dad. They're very strong and very expensive." ... "How much?" asked the father. "$10 for each pill," answered his son. ... "I don't care. I'd still like to try one before we leave in the morning. I'll put the money under the pillow." ... (4) Later the next morning, his son found $110 under the pillow. He called his father and said, "I told you, Dad, each pill was $10, not $110." ... "I know. The hundred is from your mother!"
