A. Cynthia, my beautiful bride, and I:

(1) Got a kick out of the following play that I wrote about on Facebook: You're in luck, in that you have four more chances to see DINNER WITH FRIENDS at Attic Salt Theatre next weekend (Nov. 8-10). ... This engrossing play about two married couples received the 2000 Pulitzer Prize for Drama. It features outstanding performances from Jeff Catanese, Matt Edwardsen, Lara Hollaway and Christy Montesdeoca, and Catanese deserves extra additional kudos for his fine job as director. Costumes by McKinney Gough were spot on, as was Chris Kingsley's handling of stage manager duties. ... For tickets, please click: Here.

(2) Joined our friends Tom and Marcy Gallagher for dinner at Pacific Pagoda, a Chinese restaurant that is becoming our favorite such eatery in the area. We especially enjoy the friendly service we receive from Jennifer.

B. Come meet the Fincklestin family and others at The Sublime Theater's world premiere of MY CRAZY MY LOVE, now at The BeBe Theatre though Nov. 23. ... According to a press release, The show is "a domestic phantasmagoria with song and dance." It has both comedic and dramatic elements, along with terrific performances from Steven Samuels, Kathy O'Connor, Julian Vorus, Olivia Stuller, Emmaleigh Moriniti, Lydia Congdon and Art Moore. ... Kudos to playwright John Crutchfield for his latest effort, as well as to these others who helped make the production such a success: Samuels who also served as director; Holiday Childress, composer; Kristi DeVille, choreographer; and Rachel McCrain, assistant director/stage manager. ... For tickets, please click: Here. #audiencereview

G. Correction: Last week's issue mentioned my personal board of directors. These were folks who have made a difference in my life and who I contact for advice about a wide range of topics. ... More importantly, I inadvertently left the following names off this list: Maureen McCreadie, John Murray, Danny Brice, Sherry Shapiro, Annemarie Brown, Carole Biro, Marcy Gallagher, Sunny Ruble, Bonnie Sibner, Walela Dobroski and Steven Shulman. ... ## 2. FYI

Ever run out of battery power for your cellphone and have nowhere to plug it in? Or wondered what you lost the electricity in your home and your cellphone had no charge? ... The solution: Get yourself a portable charger. This is a lightweight power bank or mobile battery pack that you can carry anywhere. ... You simply charge it up at home, throw it in your bag or your pocket and connect it to your phone whenever it needs a quick battery boost. ... I just got an Aker PowerCore 13000 Power Charger and am very pleased with it. Methinks you would be, too.

4. Reviews

A. Saw LAST CHRISTMAS, a romantic comedy about a salesclerk who encounters the man of her dreams. It feels like a Hallmark movie--and a not very good one at that. The two leads, Emilia Clarke and Henry Golding, have little chemistry. And the surprise ending is one that can be guessed long before the film is over. Rated PG-13.

B. Thanks, Mike Martinelli, for posting the following review:

HARRIET ***

Wonderful true story of how Harriet Tubman escaped slavery and all she did to free other slaves. Great performance by Broadway and Tony winner for The Color Purple, Cynthia Erivo. And Broadway Tony winner for Hamilton, Leslie Odem Jr. There's also as well a great cast ensemble. Look for it to be nominated at SAG for best cast ensemble.

C. Thanks, Michael Dequina, for sending me this video he shot at the world premiere of OPENING NIGHT a few years ago: Here.

Note: I reviewed this film in last week's issue. In thinking some more about it, I've just added it to my list of all-time favorites. If you'd like to get this list, send an email to: bginbc@aol.com and put FAVORITES in the subject line.

D/ Heard FURIOUS HOURS: MURDER, FRAUD, AND THE LAST TRIAL OF HARPER LEE (Random House Audio), written by Casey Cep and read by Hillary Huber. ... This book is an enthralling combination of a true-crime thriller, courtroom drama and miniature biography of Harper Lee. ... If you were a fan of TO KILL A MOCKINGBIRD, you'll like this one. It will also give you some insight into why there Lee never wrote a second book.

8. Technology tip

Last week, I discussed how to loop a YouTube video on your desktop or laptop if you want to play music over and over. It is easy to do. . . . For some reason, doing this on your smartphone isn't quite as simple. But according to TECHWISER, "There are some workarounds to loop a video right inside the YouTube app, for both Android and iOS. Although it's in no way perfect like the web version, it gets the job done." . . . To find out how to do this, please click: Here.

11. Thought for the day

Thanks, Jan Anderson Robbins, for sharing her recent Facebook post:
Community Theater has been a part of my life for many years! It has been my salvation and my joy. It is not comprised of one or two people that are irreplaceable but of many communities within that community. Every show comprises a smaller community of people volunteering hours of time for the enjoyment of the larger community. The contributions of the theater community are priceless to all people. To try to destroy or cause drama underneath the community is a waste of good energy. If one community theater doesn't work for you .. find one that does and invest your energy positively!

And to Carol Deurmitt for sharing her comment:
Yeah, the drama belongs ON the stage. Period. It's COMMUNITY theatre. No one is getting paid. We are doing this for FUN. It seems a lot of people forget that. Weird. And boards filled with what my former neighbor lovingly called "pips." That's "previously important people." ... Long live happy, positive, narcissist-free community theater.
